Applicants who are denied and do not appeal, or whose appeal was unsuccessful, may still take out PLUS loans by obtaining an endorser. For example, more than 20,000 PLUS borrowers per year have had endorsers in recent years. In addition, a dependent undergraduate whose parent is unable to obtain a Parent PLUS loan has access to the same higher Direct Unsubsidized Loan annual loan limits as an independent undergraduate at the same grade level. In other words, the student is then able to borrow somewhat more to make up for some of the borrowing that the parent is unable to contribute.
